DEMOCRATS GROWING MORE NUMEROUS.

That is, they seem to be growing more numerous down in that old abolition hold of Yankees, the city of beans. They beat the Republicans out of their boots with a fellow by the name of Patrick Collins. "Patrick," of course, and an Irishman. But we do not know that there is so much of a margin for bragging. Boston is no longer a Yankee town. Upwards of half of its voting population is foreign born. However, the Democrats carried Boston by more than 20,000, and mossbackdom is pricking up its ears.

Speaking of Democratic numerosity, the Kansas Democratic Central committee has decided that their next state convention shall consist of upwards of 900 delegates. There is but one place in Kansas prepared to take care of 900 regulation Democrats, when it comes to the questions of deglutition and libation, and that town is the central city of should open a blood vessel to make assurance doubly sure Wichits. The convention should convene in the Peerless that there would be no revival in the narrow confines of the Princess, and the question of such convening ought to be decided without debate and unanimously. The left-over influence of such an aggregation may be somewhat dreaded, burial. Of course we are glad of being assured that the W. C. T. U. have holds such a flavor of consistency and of wisdom. This movement overshadows any free lunch enterprise, with cold water on the side. Figuratively, it takes Mr. Indian by his breechclout and saves him from a drunkard's grave, and simply by hedging him about with a geographical line. No man or woman born would have been smart enough to think out such a solution of that compounded problem of civilization constituted of two such simple ingredients as Indian and whisky.

FRENCH CRADLES AND GRAVES.

The French government has just appointed a commission, at the instance of Senator Bernard, to inquire how the cradles of that country may be reinforced in their present close contest with its graves. All Immigrants unable to read at least twenty words of the tives, who hold that a commander of British troops cannot Constitution of the United States printed in the language of their native country were, by the provisions of that bill, to be returned to the countries from which they came.

In again urging the educational test the league submits statistics showing the character of recent immigration. According to these figures the immigration from Eastern Europe, including Spain and Portugal, in the fiscal year 1901, amounted to 248,203, or 50.8 per cent of the total. The total immigration from Western Europe for the same period was 164.782, or 32.7 per cent of the whole. The importance of these figures is indicated by the statement that camps be brought to Holland. Perhaps this is what has among the immigrants from Eastern Europe, including Spain and Portugal, 46 per cent of those over fourteen years of age were unable to read or write, while only 5.6

All of the Presidents since Lincoln have urged the same thing, but they all had been participants in the war for the Union. Roosevelt's tribute comes from the first man to sit in the White house since 1860 who did not participate in the Civil war on the Union side, or was old enough to have too intimate juxtaposition of Indian appetite and free done so when that struggle began. Theodore Roosevelt was less than 4 years of age when that war came. He be longs to the generation that has grown up since the war, among whom there is not always a clear understanding or appreciation of what the Union soldiers did for their country, and who are sometimes inclined to forget why that war was fought.
